

INDEX TO VOLUME LXXXIX

C.N. = Clinical and other Notes.
C.L. = Current Literature.

	PAGE		PAGE
Acrylic ocular prosthesis, by F. J. Sellars	91	McGill, Major R. J., lichen planus linearis	303
Amoebic dysentery, unusual aspects and therapy in, by Lieutenant-Colonel L. R. S. Macfarlane Part I	223	Mackay-Dick, Lieutenant-Colonel J., infective hepatitis	290
Part II	255	Malarial episodes, by Major E. Soysa	205
Analysis of 100 consecutive operations on the knee and a report on a xanthoma of the knee-joint, an, by Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Marsden	29	Mann, Captain G. N., penicillin in the treatment of human anthrax	79
Bacteriophage typing of European and North African strains of Bact. typhosum , by Major J. F. Wilson	186	Marsden, Lieutenant-Colonel C. M., an analysis of 100 consecutive operations on the knee and a report on a xanthoma of the knee-joint	29
Cappon, Captain D., the pitressin hydration test in the diagnosis of epilepsy	132	Marsden, Lieutenant-Colonel C. M., traumatic diaphragmatic hernia	71
Chemoprophylaxis of malaria, the, by Colonel R. W. Scott	101	Martial law in Tel Aviv, by Colonel K. Fletcher-Barrett	83
Correspondence	141	Meningococcal infections in the army, 1939-1945 (with 30 selected illustrative cases), by Major-General R. Priest	1
Eames, Lieutenant-Colonel J. W., and Lieutenant-Colonel G. T. L. Archer, an investigation into the possible effects of intramuscular injections of bismuth on the penicillin content of the blood serum when given concurrently with penicillin in the treatment of early syphilis	57	Military nursing through the ages, by Anne Thompson	194
Eames, Lieutenant-Colonel J. W., tabes dorsalis, aortic aneurism, and cutaneous syphilis presenting in the same patient	301	Nicoll, Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Vere, sulphonamide anuria	135
Findlay, G. M., E. A. Boulter and C. B. MacGibbon, a note on sickling and flying	138	Niven, Major R. J., an appreciation of smallpox as it affects the hygiene services of the British army to-day	166
Fletcher-Barrett, Colonel K., the kupat holim	81	NOTICES:
Fletcher-Barrett, Colonel K., martial law in Tel Aviv	83	Change of name	251
Infective hepatitis, by Lieutenant-Colonel J. Mackay-Dick	290	In memoriam	250
Investigation into the possible effects of intramuscular injections of bismuth on the penicillin content of the blood serum when given concurrently with penicillin in the treatment of early syphilis, an, by Lieutenant-Colonel J. W. Eames and Lieutenant-Colonel G. T. L. Archer	57	Prize competition 1947	90
Johnston, Captain R. N., some aspects of pneumonia among African troops in the Gold Coast and the response of the disease to sulphamerazine	38	Royal Society of Medicine	251
Kupat holim, the, by Colonel K. Fletcher-Barrett	81	The consultant's prize	142
Lichen planus linearis, by Major R. J. McGill	303	Now—when I was there, by Major H. Pozner	187
Macfarlane, Lieutenant-Colonel L. R. S., unusual aspects and therapy in amoebic dysentery. Part I	223	OBITUARIES:
Part II	255	Lieutenant-General Sir Harold Ben Fawcus	306
		Brigadier George Riddoch	308
		Brigadier Walter Rowley Bristow	309
		Parachute field ambulance, the, by Lieutenant-Colonel A. D. Young	253
		Penicillin in the treatment of human anthrax, by Captain G. N. Mann	79
		Pitressin hydration test in the diagnosis of epilepsy, the, by Captain D. Cappon	132
		Positive health—its attainment in the soldier and the army's contribution to it in the civilian, by Brigadier A. E. Richmond	274
		Potter, Captain J. M., protruded disk sciatica in the services and its management	143
		Pozner, Major H., now—when I was there	187
		Priest, Major-General R., meningococcal infections in the army (with 30 selected illustrative cases)	1
		Protruded disk sciatica in the services and its management, by Captain J. M. Potter	143
		Psychiatric and allied aspects of the problems of venereal disease in the army, with particular reference to S.E.A.C., by Lieutenant-Colonel T. A. Ratcliffe	122

	PAGE		PAGE
Purulent pericarditis—combined surgical and penicillin treatment, by Major C. W. Templeton C.N.	44	Sevitt, Major S., saline test for streptococcal hæmolysin	66
Ratcliffe, Lieutenant-Colonel T. A., psychiatric and allied aspects of the problems of venereal disease in the army, with particular reference to S.E.A.C.	122	Sickling and flying, a note on, by G. M. Findlay, E. A. Boulter and C. B. MacGibbon C.N.	138
Reid, Major J. A., and Captain T. Wilson, report on nutrition, and discussion of the main causes of death, "F" force, Thailand	149	Some aspects of pneumonia among African troops in the Gold Coast and the response of this disease to sulphamerazine, by Captain R. N. Johnston	38
Report on nutrition, and discussion of the main causes of death, "F" force, Thailand, by Major J. A. Reid and Captain T. Wilson	149	Soysa, Major E., malarial episodes	205
REVIEWS:		Sulphonamide anuria, by Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Vere Nicholl C.N.	135
A practical textbook of leprosy, by R. G. Cockrane	204	Suppression of malaria by mepacrine, by Lieutenant-Colonel G. Wynne-Griffith	112
A synopsis of anæsthesia, by J. Alfred Lee	204	Tabis dorsalis, aortic aneurism and cutaneous syphilis presenting in the same patient, by Lieutenant-Colonel J. W. Eames C.N.	301
British Journal of Surgery. War Supplement No. 1. Wounds of the head	203	Templeton, Major C. W., purulent pericarditis—combined surgical and penicillin treatment C.N.	44
The case of Rudolph Hess	250	Thompson, Anne, military nursing through the ages C.N.	194
The conquest of the unknown (Conquest Series No. 5), by G. Bankoff	203	Toxic effects of ten daily injections of mapharside combined with penicillin in the treatment of early syphilis, the, by Lieutenant-Colonel R. R. Willcox	49
The diagnosis of the acute abdomen in rhyme, by Zeta	310	Traumatic diaphragmatic hernia, by Lieutenant-Colonel C. M. Marsden	71
Richmond, Brigadier A. E., positive health—and its attainment in the soldier and the army's contribution to it in the civilian	274	Willcox, Lieutenant-Colonel R. R., the toxic effects of ten daily injections of mapharside combined with penicillin in the treatment of early syphilis	49
Saline test for streptococcal hæmolysin, by Major Simon Sevitt	66	Wilson, Major J. F., the bacteriophage typing of European and North African strains of Bact. typhosum C.N.	186
Scott, Colonel R. W., the chemoprophylaxis of malaria	101	Wynne-Griffith, Lieutenant-Colonel G., suppression of malaria by mepacrine	112
Sellars, Captain F. J., acrylic ocular prosthesis	91	Young, Lieutenant-Colonel A. D., the parachute field ambulance	253

6
J
T